

Speaker	Affiliation	Title	Session	Location
Hege Wergedahl	Western Norway University of Applied Sciences, Norway	Cognitive performance and school achievements	1A	1A: M308, K2
Neha Kishan Lalchandani	University of Adelaide, Australia	Sneak Peek: Lunchbox contents of preschool and primary school children in South Australia	1A
Siri Løvsjø Solberg	Matvalget, Norway	Evaluating health and sustainability profile of school meals through consumption data analysis	1A
Jakub Adamczewski	Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, Poland	The school lunch of the future. How Polish children imagine meals in 2050?	1A
Laura Terragni	OsloMet, Norway	Changing meals practices in Norwegian school: challenges in implementing school meals programs fully realizing their potential.	1B	1B: M309, K2
Aija Laitinen	University of Eastern Finland	The Tasty School model is feasible for food education in primary schools	1B
Kaisa Kähkönen	University of Eastern Finland	Implementation of food education in school environments improves pupils' eating patterns and social participation in school dining	1B
Hillevi Prell	University of Gothenburg, Sweden	"I did not go to college for three years to cook porridge": Barriers and possibilities to promote healthy eating habits in preschool	1B
Jason O'Rourke	Washingborough Academy, UK	Food Education in schools: why do some headteachers make this a priority?	2A	2A: M308, K2
Kristiina Janhonen	University of Helsinki, Finland	Promoting food sense through school meals	2A
Báti Anikó	Research Centre for the Humanities, Hungary	The role of the school food (Hungarian example)	2A
Melissa Vargas	Food and Nutrition Division, FAO, Italy	School food nutrition guidelines and standards for safeguarding children and adolescents' right to food	2A
Sara Frödén	Örebro University, Sweden	Rethinking School Meal as a part of Environmental and Sustainability Education	2B	2B: M309, K2
Tina Bowley	MALMÖ stad, Sweden	SUSTAINABLE SCHOOL LUNCH A mixed methods study of the economic, environmental and social perspectives of the mid-west region in southern Sweden	2B
Ulrikke Liisberg	Oslo New University College, Norway	«Food jungle» - an initiative to promote sustainable food habits for children at after-school facilities in Norway.	2B
Elsie Brenne	Viken county, Norway	Healthy and sustainable school meals	3	3: M003, K2
Cathrine Solheim Kolve	Oslo county/FHI, Norway	Healthy and sustainable school food in Norway – development of a one-pot concept	3
Bent Mikkelsen	Copenhagen University, Denmark	Exposure, Effect and Empowerment – a food systems approach to food at school	3	